TEACHERS

Are student behaviors impacting your teaching?

Your school is taking part in the Teachers & Parents as Partners (TAPP) research study, a short, effective behavioral intervention. If a student in your class would benefit from additional behavioral support, you are eligible and encouraged to participate.

All enrolled teachers will:

- Complete 2 online surveys.
- Record 8 classroom sessions (30 minutes each).
- Help identify Pre-K to grade 6 students to participate.

Teachers will be randomly assigned to the TAPP Now or the TAPP Later group.

TAPP Now Group:

- Within a period of about 8 weeks, a school specialist will facilitate a series of 3-4 meetings with you and your student's parent.
- You, the parent, and the school specialist will create a plan to improve the student's behavior in school and at home.
- Receive up to $600 for participation.

TAPP Later Group:

- You will continue teaching and interacting with your student and their parent as you normally would.
- Receive up to $500 for participation.
